He Inflicts an Interview Upon the People,

In Which He Beats the Air for Blaine and Throws His Support in His Payor.

Danger of a Bad Gang Being Turned Loose in a Great Crowd of Teachers.

Roosevelt, the Dude.

St. PAUL, June 9.-Hou. Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, spent Sunday in St. Paul on his way to the Moutan ranche. Speaking of the issue of the convention, Mr. Roosevelt said: "The platform is an admirable one, as strong a one as the party has has had since the old war days. It will gain thousands of votes all over the country. There is scarcely a republican or independent of conservative judgment but must endorse it heartily. The democratic party must follow in the main our platform, or give up the fight. I did not favor either Blaine or Arthur. My preference was Edmunds. Aside from his own strength of 330 odd votes that would stick to him through thick and thin plumed knight was the the plumed knight was the second choice of two-thirds of the remainder of the delegates. As soon as they saw the nomination of their candidate was impossible and Blaine's nomination was probable, they flocked to him in a body. This is why no combination against Blaine was possible, Had I not heen so positively for Edmunds I don't know but what I would have been carried away by the contagion and found myself throwing up my hands for Blaine. Blaine is the choice of two-thirds of the rank and file of the party. I shall bolt the nomination by no means. I have no personal objections to Blaine. I think you will find there will he no fatal disaffection. I believe Blaine will be elected. He will sweep the west and Ohio will carry all New England. I have been called a reformer but I am a republican. It is too early to speak of New York, no one today can tell how that state will vote. I do not think it impossible for Blaine to carry it. I do not believe there will the an independent candidate. Those who will not vote the republican ticket will stay from the polls. As to the bolt of the New York Times, I am inclined to think that it would support either Clevelaund or Dorsheimer II nominated by the democrats.

The Usual Budget of Condensed News Gathered From the Four Corners of the Earth.

The Newry Riota.

Newry, June 9.—The Nationalists began to assemble in the streets at noon Sunday, large numbers coming from all directions on railroad trains. At 3 o'clock a huge procession formed which marched to the place appointed for the meeting. T e assemblage was there addressed by P. O'Brien, M. P., Timothy Sullivan, M. P., and others. The usual resolutions denouncing the government and advocating freedom for Ireland were adopted.

adopted. While the procession was returning to the city several disorderly persons in the crowd threw some stones into the Protestant quarter. The Protestants retaliated, and, in spite of a charge by the police, a riot ensued which instead some time. Several shots were fired and six persons were severely injured. The military finally dispersed the rioters, making a number of arrests on both sides. nides sides.

At 9 o'clock in the evening rioting broke out at Besstrook, a suburt, and a detachment of the Lancers, together with a body of police, were sent to quall the disturbance. Scenes of great excitement and disorder prevailed. The Nationalists fired several shorts from revolvers into the hall used by the Orangemen and the latter responded by firing from the windows. The police rushed into the mob and arrested sixty persons.

Run Down by a Train,

PITTSBUBG, June 9.—A frightful accident happened near Lectadale, Pa., on the line of the Cleveland and Pitteburg railroad, about 6:30 o'clock this morning, by which two persons were instantly killed and another received fatal injuries. A party of five strolling Italians were tramping toward this city on the railroad tracks, when a freight train came along and stepping aside to avoid it, three of them were struck by the Cleveland express, which was coming on the opposite track. The express was running at a high rate of speed and the victime were harled twenty feet in the air. John Dalman announces himself to day as a candidate for nomination to the position of county treasurer. Mr. Dalman has served one term in this capacily and with what satisfaction is proven that, so far at least, no opposition has been made to his re-election. He is a careful official and has well guarded the interests of the county.

A PEW days ago THE SENTINEL COD tained a telegraphic dispatch to the effect that Charles A. Dana had stated that he had read a letter which Mr. Tilden bad written, and which would be presented to the New York state convention, in which he positively declined to be a can didnte for the presidency. Mr. Dana has since denied having made any such statement but believes that Mr. Tilden will decline.

THE REPUBLICAN NORINEES.

The republicans have placed in nomination their presidential ticket for 1884, usming for the first place James G. Blaine, of Maine, and John A. Logan, of Illinois, for the second. After much persistency and many de feats Mr. Blaine has, at last, secured the nomination for the highest office in the gift of the people from one of the great political parties of the country. He is a man who has long been in public life and, like too many political statesmen, his past record is not invaluerable. There are many points exposed to attack, and while we recognize that he is a strong man with a majority of his party, yet there are elements in it which he cannot unite. His course in many instances when occupying positions of power, has not proven to be for the best interests of the country and have proven him to be hasty and not calculated to control the affairs and destinies of fifty millions of people. His nomination was sourced by the shrewdness of his own managers and the insbility of the managers of the opposition and he enters the canvas without the support of some of the most influential republican organs of the country.

Mr. Dlaine is brilliant without being great. He is rash and impetuous, unfitted to be trusted with affairs connected with the state or government. His course throughout has been such as has, created alarm among business men and this distrust will follow him through the campaign. His party has realized his faults and therefore have defeated him in former conventions by the very arguments which we have here mentioned. This year the leaders and the far-seeing men of the party were not in attendance and he was nominated. It now remains for the people to do what the republican conventions have heretofore done, defeat him The democracy of the country are well pleased with Mr. Blaine's nomination and with the principles which he tepre souts. The second place on the ticket is filled by:John A.: Logun, "Black Jack," a man who represents no class of people nor no portion of his party. While the question of his nomination is not an issue, and there will be brought forward many strong arguments against him before the people are called upon to east their ballote this fall, yet it was obtained, as was Blaine's, through political shrewdyess and not simply because he was the choice of the people. Many statements which have been made in regard to his popularity, and especially in regard to the Grand Army boys, are manufactured from whole cloth and are untruths. The efforts to make the organization referred to a political one will react upon those attempting to prostitute an order in tended only for mutual benefit. Mr. Logan is not a representative man of the country and the enthusiasm and support which he will add to the ticket will not be of benefit, but rather the reverse. The campaign of 1884 will soon be upon us and the democratic party has no easy task before it. A political party. which has held the reins of government for twenty-four years, during which time it has prostituted positions of honor and trust for personal and party advance ment, stands before us, making the last fight for its life. Its defeat means its annihilation. It is defiant and powerful and its dethronement from power, supported as it is by all the machinery of the government, cannot come except by earnest and energetic work. We have a strong enemy to fight, but give the people of this country a candidate in whom they have confidence for the enforcement of reform in every department of the country's affairs and we shall roll up a victory in Novembor. With a man and party pledged for reform we can con quer and we will.

THE GAZETTE'S ENTHUSIASM.

The Fort Wayne Gazette, the leading republican paper of northern Indiana, does not seem to be very enthusiastic over the nomination of Mr. Blaine. This may cause weeping in the camp of the faithful, but the truth must come

Blaine is a man of brilliant parts. possesses a magnetism that is remarka-ble, and has warmer friends than any public man in the nation. But has the enough at the proper places to insure success?

That was the vital problem to be solved by the Chicago convention. In the solution of the same, did that body reach a conclusion that is acceptable to the party, and one that will prove to be correct—the sequel must show.

This is the proin subparts the same

This in the main embraces the same double as The Sentinea expresses, and which must be answered in November. For this encouragement from the republican organ of the northern part of the state we are truely grateful and will hold in dear remembrance. Will some one be kind enough to break the news to Mr. Bleine that the Gazette is very luke warm in his cause.

THE Richmond Palladium says that "the Indiana delegation to Chicago did not exactly cover itself all over with glory." These are hard raps.

How Some of the Organs Refuse to Swal tour the Medicine.

After no presidential nomination with in the history of either political party has there been such a vigorous disposition to kick out of the traces as since the nomination of Blaine. The papers which are opposing him have heretofore supported the republican nominee, and are the leading papers of the country. In Boston but one paper, the Port, supports him and that in a half-hearted manner, being compelled to est its own words. The New York Tribune alone represents the supporters of Blaine in that city and that paper is the one which has so frequently declared against all organized labor anions and which has never ceased to strike them. This is a fitting type for a Blaine organ, Many of the independent papers of the country, which have always wheeled into the republican line, now refuse to support Blaine. All these, combined with the lukewarmness of our own esteemed contemporary, the Gazette, is enough to cause alarm. We slip from the editorials of a few of these papers:

"THE HERALD,"

"THE HERALD."

The Boston Herald, independent, says: "Believing that Mr. Blaine would be a bad and dangerous president, we hope to see him defeated. Believing him to be a weak candidate, we expect to see him defeated. His zealous henchmen say he can't be without the aid of New York. They will have a chance to prove it. Perhaps they, think he can be elected without the help of Massachusetts. It is not improbable that they may have a chance to test this also. If the demourats rise to the occasion, nominate Governor Cleveland. and rive him may have a chance to test this also. If the democrats rise to the concasion, non-inate Governor Cleveland, and give him an honest support in his own state, we believe they will carry the election."

"THE ADVERTISER."

The Advertiser."

The Advertiser, of the same city, (republican,) bolts the nomination. It says: "To a large section of the republican party the news that the fierce struggle at Chicago had suded by, the nomination of Mr. Blaine will appear ominous of disaster. To them the event will mean that the party of sound government and of high moral purpose is required to abdicate its place as the exponent of principles and to undertake the exculpation of a man, and we believe that the decision of a national convention no longer reflects the matured judgment of a great party Lodding itself rement of a great party holding itself responsible for the guidance of the nation, but is the chance result of a contest, in which intense ambitions, the most degraded political methods, and the clamor of a mob within the hall of the convention have had a victory. With unabated devotion to the great purposes for which the republican party was organized, and has been maintained, we dealare our institute of the present aspect of the political field or in any which now seems likely to present itself."

"THE NEW YORK HERALD."

"The Herald says in its leader, which is headed "Worse Than a Orime" "Finally the great agony is over, and Mr. Blaine is the candidate of the republican party for the office of the president of the United States. We are sorry for it, and we believe the republican party will be sorry for it next November. There will be an immediate development of interest in what the democrats will do on the 8th of July. We have no doubt they can easily win with Tildan's name at the head of their ticket. The fraud of 1876 is more strongly recented now than in 1880. Not only would Tilden secure all the democratic votes, but a large number of republicans would see in him a conservative, statesmanlike leader for whom they can safely vote. His name will represent an opening, but still conservative future progress to new ideas and ney petines, and a healthful advance for the country. Tilden would, we believe, live out his term if he were elected, for although his body may be feeble, his brain is clear, and history tells of many feeble-bodied, statesmen besides Richelien."

"THE NEW YORK TIMES."

The Times, republican, says: "It is best, after all, that James G. Blaine should be the candidate of the republican party. His nomination has been urged with earnestness and sincerity by a majority of that party, and the majority must rule in this country, even when it is in the wrong. The party now appeals to the country with a candidate who stands for something. He represents the average of republican principles and purposes of republican beautiful purposes of republican who do not like Blaine resent with heat this illegution that a man who, as appealer of the is name for the position of coroner. The clotor is an old and well known esident of this city and a staunch demostrate. His nomination and election would give satisfaction.

The editorial meeting of the northern cortion of the state, occurs at Huntingson, next Thursday and Friday. The epople of that place have made all preparations for a grand meeting and a large.

Blaine of the truth must come like Blaine resent with heat this allegation that a man who, as speaker of the should break it to them gently now. From the tone of a double-leaded editorial appearing last Saturday, under the caption of "Blaine, of Maine, Our Standard Bearer," a few interesting lacts are brought to notice. From them we clip the following:

Blaine or each with heat this allegation that a man who, as speaker of the louse of representatives, bartered his official influence for private gain; who, as secretary of state, made the enforcement of a swindling claim against a distressed and perishing sister republic the most conspicuous feature of his foreign policy are brought to notice. From them we clip the following:

Blaine or each with heat this allegation that a man who, as speaker of the louse of representatives, bartered his official influence for private gain; who, as secretary of state, made the enforcement of a swindling claim against a distressed and perishing sister republic the most conspicuous feature of his foreign policy are brought to notice. From them we come file all influence for private gain; who, as secretary of state, made the enforcement who has bad no part or interest in the work done in the last five years to ward the purification of the public served with the atthis must of the should break it to them gently now.

From the tone of a double-leaded editional propagation that a man who, as speaker of the louse of private gain; who, as secretary of state, made the enforcement who as with the action of a swindling claim against a distressed and perishing sister republic the most conspicuous feature of his foreign louse of the party that saved the union, freed the slave, and restored the national credit. sinve, and restored the hadronal credit. There will be nothing ambiguous about the defeat of Mr. Blaine. He who runs may clearly read the verdict in advance: 'A candidate nuworthy of confidence, and a party too carcless of its own honor to be longer trusted with the nation's welfare.' welfare.

"THE NEWS."

The Chicago Nove, a paper which carnestly supported Arthur during the cunvass, says;

curvass, says:

"It is perhaps needless to say that the act of the convention has not changed our opinion of the men who is now the nominee of the republican party. That act may constitute in the eyes of many a veritable political Lethe, but we see no reason to follow those whose convictions are so easily changed. No one has disproved the charges made against Mr. Blaine, nor have they ever been withdrawn. In short, he is to-day in all respects the same man that he was before drawn. In short, he is to-day mall re-spects the same man that he was before the convention assembled. We have, therefore, no regrets whatever on this score. He is now the standard-bearer of one of the great political parties—deliberately chosen by men whose right to select him is indisputable, and whose responsibility for that selection is equally charges.

"THE NEW , YORK BUR."

The Sum says: "Mr. Blaine is a fertile and sensational politician, and , be will force the fighting from the start. Moreover, a party in power is always hard to beat, and the republican party can outdo in this respect all others that over existed outside of Mexico. It will not be enough to defeat Blaine at the polls. It will not be enough to have against him an immense majority of the people. It will not be enough to have a majority of the electoral college. Fraud and force will be brought into play by the republican office holders in 1884, just as freely as they were in 1876. Mr. Mr. Blaine is a man of desperate expedients." . "THE NEW , YORK BUY."

The base ball managers advertised a first-class game and the spects tors were indignant at being victimized into paying for a skin game. This work will certainly kill the base ball games in Fort Wayne.

A TOUGH TRIO.

Eiter, Schreck and Luli Enliven the Mabba by a Fem Fights and Matinees---Schreck Locked Up.

Henry Schreck, Jake Luli and Gust Eiter made up a little picnic party yesterday and early proceeded to enjoy themselves. At Casso's saloon they created a disturbance and Capt; Hugh Diehl put a quietus on the prospective riot, but had not sufficient cause to arrest them. Then the trio went to Louis Girardin's saloon on East Columbia street, and demanded drinks. Mr. Girardin refused and promptly had an eye closed by Mr.
Efter. Mit Schreck wanted torgets cruck at Girardin with a char, but did not have an opportunity. The tric continued their work ull day until-Marshal Meyer ran across them and locked Schreck up.
He was fined at police court and at last accounts was hustling for cash. Affidavits are on file for Itali and Eiter, and they will be gathered in for their matinee. Mr. Girardin was at police court this morning to prosecute Schreck and his eye had all the hues of the rainbow. Schreck, Eiter and Ituli are a tough trio and used to make things lively when Emanuel Fox lived. The men are dangerous and more than one policeman avows his intention to use a Smith & Wessen gun if ever attacked by the gang. saloon on East Columbia street, and de

Death of Mrs. Judge Fay.

This morning occurred the death of Mrs. Julia Fay, widow of the late Judge James A. Fay. Mrs. Fay was fifty-eight years of age at the time of her death and no lady enjoyed more completely the love, respect and confidence of a wide circle of friends than she did. An only daughter, Mrs. P. A. Randall, survives her. For some time Mrs. Fay has been ill, but her death was peaceful, while about her death bed were sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral of Mrs. Fay will occur to morrow at H o'clock from her late home on Maple avenue. Her remains will be excerted to the depot and transported to Albien, N. Y., where the interment will take, place. love, respect and confidence of a wide sincle of friends than she did. An Advice to Motieus.—Mrs. Winslow's Scothing Syrup should always be used when children are entiting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It noothes the child, softens the guns, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes.
